OTHERWISE, HEALTHY

A Group Show in Three Parts, Curated by GalleryOne11 and Kyle Richard Solms

INTRODUCTION

OTHERWISE, HEALTHY is the umbrella title of a new exhibition scheduled to take place throughout August and September at GalleryOne11 on Loop Street, in Cape Town, South Africa.

CONCEPT

This exhibition will explore the human body as a metaphor which transcends textbook meanings of “health”, speaking to a functional or dysfunctional society that may in fact be ill within its own realms. Otherwise, Healthy seeks to investigate the strangeness of the human position - a body of flesh and bones with the ability to experience consciousness. It seeks to echo the eternal human process of recording the simple fact that we exist. Subsequently it begs the questions, “what are we?”, “where is here?” and “what are we leaving behind?”

REASONING

Otherwise, Healthy hopes to carefully unpack the insanity of the individual experience, the profoundness of the shared collective, the exhilaration in self-discovery, the comedy of personality, the looming fear of mortality, and the utterly bizarre concept of a body of meat expressing ‘identity’.

This exhibition sets out to discover how these constructs intersect, erode, mutate, atrophy, or reproduce when positioned in relation to our inherited notions of physicality, spirituality, sexuality, normality, community, ancestry and legacy. It brings to our attention the comedy and tragedy within the fleeting, fragile, existential line between pleasure and pain.

We all must participate in the body politic as it relates to our own physical existence within the world we have created. Whether we choose to acknowledge it or not - whether we accept it or not.
